This is My Understanding

When I now begin this level of understanding and sharing what I know and understand, it is important that you, the reader, truly and fully understand that I am just like you, trying to remember and to wake up.

In this material, I have tried to communicate with the different participants of our reality, as well as getting my old material updated to the information, I have now.

It is based upon my work as a restorer, interviewer and researcher, being able to communicate with the many factions that are here or have been here telepathically. Including my old knowledge from when I entered the interactive simulation program (the ISP), our world of today actually is. As you will see, the factions present here, do not hold the same version of our reality, or the reason for it. And thus, I have had to conclude things, which can be wrong, based upon my research and my energy work with the LOES, the template readings, their operators and the factions that are here. Naturally most of the information here will not make much sense unless you are familiar with my books and the SETAH Fundamentals. You find the free material on www.toveje.dk.

When you read this material and other similar sources of information, you are to ask yourself, at all times:

- Is this information part of the ISP in a restoring or manipulating way?
- What is the progression rate of the information; as in does it lead to noticeable changes in your perception and energy level, making you know and remember?
- Who and what is behind the information and what is the goal of it?

The ISP - Then and Now

Before I go into explaining the interactive simulation program (the ISP), i.e. the program we are still part of and inside of, struggling to awaken and complete the simulations we chose for ourselves, it will be beneficial to take a look at the origin of the ISP as well as the reality outside the ISP, or our simulated world.

The first groups of operators completed their simulations some 30,000 years ago. The whole idea of the ISP was to transform the 3rd world particle units based upon frequencies, into holding a higher state of consciousness as well as producing the type of energy units found in all of the other worlds, that existed at the time. The old worlds, and the universes we were part of, held a vast range of races that are now long gone, or have changed into new forms and worlds. Today all races look humanlike. In the old universe, which I have called the LPU, there were the humanoids. I have for the sake of the information on the internet, called these for planetary, stellar and galactic, all knowing that these terms in fact are wrong. I have tried to lift these definitions into the LPRF1-LPRF5 working with a more abstract understanding of a less progressive reality field 1-5 (hence the abbreviation LPRF) but this has turned out to be too difficult for most to work with due to the lack of understanding of the higher levels of information most humans struggle with today, alone using the frequency brain and not consciousness.

The false stellar information imprint lingers on, planted there in the 1980's and on, and most people stick to that, seeing their soul as a stellar or galactic, coming here for various purposes; some even thinking that they are this.

That is not entirely wrong, but it is incorrect as we will see. All of the template readings I have done, working with this concept, are “roadmaps” of a narrative, i.e. a type of story which that operator, and his or her LOES, was supposed to transform in the second run through of the ISP, beginning with that level of consciousness and story inside a simulation or setting such as a village or “Atlantis” etc.<sup>1</sup> Such a roadmap is called a chiasm.

The operators, who chose to participate in the ISP, came from other parts of this planetary system, such as Venus or the 2nd world, to participate in the developing of the 3rd world, that failed. Some came from other parts of other parallel worlds to do the same, partaking as a huge collaboration across many worlds in the development of the lost genetics or principles of the 3rd world and its energies.

The fact is that the operator, before the partaking of the simulation, had chosen, constructed and developed the chiasm of progression in the first particle form of a chosen simulation into other particle forms, developing these genetics by the use of the roadmap of the chiasm (called the path). The template reading is therefore NOT the history of the soul or the LOES attached to the current body. It’s a constructed narrative leading to specific progression rates and possibilities, using the inbuilt storyline of the chiasm to achieve this. It is also a fact, that some took on several narratives to develop, having more than one “entity and its memories” as part of their template and chiasm, with the goal of transforming genetics from several of the old races inside the ISP, using different simulations to achieve this – some of these simulations are captured in my books, seen as the “history of this world”. The fact is that these are all accounts of simulations of the ISP and not “the historical facts”, since there have been many simulations going on and thus the past is obscure and hidden in the chiasms of the participants.

<sup>1</sup> This is typically the history I pull from the template reading, i.e. the narrative of the operator to work with and progress, as it was supposed to run through the stages of the chiasm into the completion cycle.

In early stages of the ISP, when the operators had completed their chosen simulation, developing the chiasm to completion, they dissolved their operating vessel composed of a projection field, an intention field, a code layer and particle unit layer into complete light, dissolving it. The particle form is also called an operating vessel or an OPV.

Back then, when an operating vessel was transformed, it lit up and disappeared from the ISP, understood as the transfiguration or the full enlightenment. It's not being "lifted to god" or the ascension, or the take off to Nirvana, as many accounts of this process document, but the completion of the ISP.

After this, the operator would produce a new ISP form, attempting to build another complete energy system to do the transformation of the 3rd world energy and consciousness units. In the old version of the ISP, the operators used to wake up between the constructions of new operating vessels, but today and the last 12,500 years the operators have been stuck inside the ISP and have been shifted from operating vessel to operating vessel due to events which changed the ISP from within.<sup>2</sup>

The operators were back then positioned in the perception level 4 (the PL4) of the ISP – called inner Earth or the operating center - in a sort of hibernation chamber, from which he or she would project or <sup>2</sup> Whether that change solely came from the opponents or from outside interference is unknown and does really not matter. The fact is that the operating vessels and their code structure were changed, preventing the operators from pulling out, and in this keeping them stuck inside the ISP with the result that many of the original projection fields have burned out as in the case of the astral "souls" I have talked about and in this preventing the operators from waking up in the real worlds. Thus, they will need our help in doing so. As long as we are fighting our own creations and illusions, then there is no need to speculate on the how, the where and the why. That evaluation we can take on the other side, as the operators.

integrate, all depending on how deep they went in, their real-world consciousness (as in contrast to the ISP mind) into an operating vessel, i.e. the “avatar” of the ISP.<sup>3</sup>

When I talk about the real-world consciousness, I am not talking about souls but of the consciousness belonging to real-world humans outside the ISP, living in worlds of energy and consciousness and not simulations.

As mentioned, the operators of the ISP came from many worlds to participate in the failed progression of the 3rd world races. Some chose to loosely participate only doing small integrations of their consciousness, such as the ones that linked up to the denser particle forms (i.e. ancient human forms) or lighter particle forms (the “angels of the past” living among the denser particle forms), whereas others chose more intricate and nuanced forms having all from blue to cobber, to golden or white skin with lots of different abilities as an attempt to transmute the 3rd world particles in depth. The more advanced the operating vessel was, the more tightly and deeply the operators chose to connect to their operating vessels with the goal of transmuting as much 3rd world consciousness and energy as possible.

The first groups completed their simulations some 30.000 years ago when the old particle forms died out and the new versions of the OPVs arose. The new, more complex simulations and their operators continued in the new operating vessels and continued the simulations to lift this world to new levels.

Here new technologies were implemented into the ISP and new segments were adapted and integrated as well, having multiple groups unfolding their simulations in different places of the ISP, called segments. These simulations still run to this day and it is this version of the ISP we are caught up in, since the completion degree of the ISP were set to more difficult settings back then as well as the changes that happened some 26,500 years ago or whenever since time is a ISP feature. But the fact is that the second run through operators have been prevented from going out of their OPV due to events that took place back then (the first take over) and later on, when other OPVs and their operators deflected to the 3rd world shadows and from that began developing ISP technology that prevented us from waking up. We have thus been kept in a suspended state, shifting from particle form to particle form, recirculating our initial chiasm and LOES for thousands of years and in this preventing us from waking up. At least until the 1990's where it became clear for the opponents that if they were to complete their own chiasm or produce a real form outside the ISP, they needed the second run through operators in a more awakened state to uphold the ISP and preventing it from going into the shutting down phase (the default of the ISP). In this they began to partially wake us up – just enough to keep the ISP going.

<sup>3</sup> The movie Avatar holds many similarities to the integration into an operating vessel, including the opposing military, but that is also about it. Naturally I cannot say if the ISP technology has been taken to other systems and used there.

The ones that completed the first simulations began to build the new 3rd world from the transformed energy units and consciousness (principles) they had produced. They build the new planet around us and in this isolated the simulation areas under what we could call a type of holographic dome or parallel reality. When you look at the ISP domes from outside, they are not that big, perhaps the size of New York, and each of them contains the simulation programs of a segment with their operators placed in hibernation in facilities nearby.

The ISP domes look interesting from the outside. Inside there are flashes of prevailing dark energy, dark green light and other colors (the frequency spectrum), dreamlike images and holograms changing all the time. The segment or operators involved in an ISP dome have their operating vessel, and they are the real players, whereas there are a lot of holographic forms going on there as well. The real players, transforming the particle layers, have what we could call “the light in their eyes, mind and hearts” whereas the holographic features, including holographic humans or mere particle vessels as well as entities of the distortion fields (the distorted code field of the program such as the astral and mental planes with their entities, including our dream state) do not.<sup>4</sup>

Players, aka an OPV with a semi-activated operator, recognize each other, whereas the holographic human or mere particle humans are “the crowd” or the clones as I have called them. The holographic humans (unspecified meetings with “humans” in collective settings such as in a city or a train) are the result of the player’s intention, perception and understanding of their ISP world. If they perceive other humans to be this or that, that is what the ISP will reflect back to the player as he or she interacts with the segment of the ISP, they have created by intending it.

The same goes with the world issues; the players of that segment collectively amplify an idea to be used as a collective thought form and from that, such worlds with such issues are generated; at least on a mental and psychological level since the particle level only develops slowly, to some extent almost not, and only by the things we build with our hands, aka the particle aspect.

So, most of the ISP unfolds on a psychological and mental level or an inner level in our heads; giving us the perception of the ISP world we actively create together. We find each other inside the ISP and from that we amplify the game, we find interesting to participate in with the purpose of developing our segment of the 3rd world particle units, joining into a specific perception field inside the ISP world, which emotionally and mentally affects us. From that effect and affect, the code layer and intention layer are developed or distorted, the latter being the case for most of us, which is why we have so great difficulties completing the ISP and waking up, in spite of our semi-activated state. But this is what we will change with this information.

<sup>4</sup> Here it is important that some segments choose to have the old 3rd world animal forms and in this act as the stellar races, i.e. the reptilians etc. But in fact, they are players just like us and not aliens or foreign races. Most of the visions of reptilians and the like in the “4th dimension” are from the distortion layer and the memories of the 3rd world animal genetics, unfolded into an inner perception stemming from the memories of the 3rd world genetics inserted into the chiasm to be transformed via the LOES.

The segments of the ISP worlds have their own version of the total ISP we are part of; hence the opposing factions, creating their version of the ISP world with the intent to develop it and in this conjuring their preferred games to play out the reactions they need to develop their segment of the 3rd world particle units.

Naturally some segments have lost their original intent and are now playing the role of the military complex, the bad guys, the elite, the controllers etc. and naturally they have coded the collective ISP world to be able to unfold this agenda in the code layer. From that they have also generated viruses (the infection) and other problems, which makes it even harder for us to complete the ISP world simulations. In this, we are to remember that it's an interactive simulation and that we are as much the creators of worlds, as they are. If they can change the codes of the simulation, so can we.<sup>5</sup>

Now it's important that you, the reader, do not see the ISP as being similar to the movie the Matrix, since that movie is part of the opposing factions having generated interfacing computer programs,

<sup>5</sup> As noticed our current ISP world is turning into a more and more psychological, interactive and cyberspace type of world, lifting our minds into settings that are highly elusive and less physical, which is a good thing but only if the inner perception is aimed at developing the LOES, energy and consciousness to complete the ISP, and not to get lost in the distortion layer of fantasies, deprived evil worlds and negative schemes. In this we add to the ISP simulations chosen by the opposing factions; not helping them or us to get out.

affecting some of the players. The code layer has little to do with machines or computers but all to do with the consciousness in the projection field and the original intent of the ISP worlds; to do service to others and in this undo the failed imprints of the 3rd world particle units. We are not to learn how to link up to a computer and similar interface programs being used via the technology of the ISP today.

The completion of the ISP is done by developing the 3rd world particle units to become caring, loving and compassionate players and to learn to work as a group amplifying each other's growth through selfless actions, emotions and thoughts – as we have been taught through all times, i.e. to assist each other from a selfless and pure heart; giving because that is the natural thing to do – however, the care, the love and the compassion is not to be seen as a feeling stemming from the particle layer and its less developed energy system, the solar plexus, hara and root chakras generating the ego or lower mind and emotions, but an understanding and a type of consciousness infused energy, which alters the particle units into a higher state, by the use of the higher ISP energy system, i.e. the LOES.

The humans living outside the ISP domes have all reached this state of behavior and existence, and they are continuing the development of the 3rd world as participants of the unified field of all of the worlds of consciousness and energy. Today only holding what we would call benevolent human races, at least in our part of the worlds. All we need to do is to wake up, remember the rules of the ISP, why we are participating and do the needed energy and transformation work to complete the segment, we are part of and the chosen genetics, we chose to work with.

The original choice and roadmap to is hidden in the chiasm and when we have completed the schematic of the chiasm, working through the memories and inner information, developing the 3rd world units and genetics through the “path” we created to do so, i.e.

the chiasm, we will wake up inside the ISP segment, we are part of and from that begin to truly pull in consciousness units from the projection field to complete the current simulation. When the operator and the ego of the operating vessel, the ego being the product of the 3rd world type of consciousness and energy, are unified in the constructed and completed LOES, the simulation is over and operator will wake up and leave his or her hibernation chamber, which for us, still being inside the ISP worlds, have been in that state for over 30.000 years.

It is time for us to awaken and complete the simulations and programs we chose to unfold and complete.

Two Telepathic Talks

I was contacted telepathically by a foreign human entity being stored in a military facility in the process of evaporating due to a too long cryonic state. As a last attempt to complete her mission here, she shared her consciousness genetics with my upper template. She was able to do so due to genetics affiliation between her origin and mine. This led to a boost of my own memories as well as gave grounds for new information, which I am using in this paper. Her information is not complete and I was not able to receive all of her genetics due to dissimilar composition. Also, remember that she added this to my upper template and in this not my full capacity. She speaks through my developed mind-field and the understanding I have, adding new concepts to the existing field of knowledge; however, her infusion led to an amplified process, awakening me more.

First Talk

Who am I talking to?

From the genetics, you integrated from me, I am able to speak through your consciousness field using your code layer and in this your knowledge field. We came from another world (parallel galaxy even though that is incorrect since there are no galaxies) to assist your segment a long time ago, but was caught up by circumstances leading to our demise and captivation in the end of the 1980's.

Our only chance to continue an existence was through the genetic transfer into your consciousness field, becoming part of that.

As a race, we exist in many worlds and have participated in many evolutionary cycles.

Should I have integrated more?

No, I chose to stay and become part of you to ensure that at least some part of our mission would be completed. Letting the rest go was as it should be so they could return to the collective consciousness field of all creations.

Tell me about our reality, our planet and solar system?

Your system is composed of multiple factors called holographic animated segments. This means that your reality per se is artificial (the interactive simulation program) and not a real world as the other older worlds, which are part of your system.

Mainly your planet is a reconstruction of an older one, where races existed and died out and to complete the evolutionary scheme of your cycle, you and other races recreated it into a sort of semi-holographic world with partly real energy units and partly artificial or holographic.

The reality is partly original and partly reconstructed. Into this reality, you divided the segments among the races participating as an attempt to reconstruct according to your abilities and knowledge skills using the setup of simulated run throughs, also called timeline possibilities.

Some of you succeeded well, whereas others regressed and took back the old habits of the old planet, which did not make it due to different stages of distortion of the energetic code fields. As such you all participated in your reality, the ones from the previous systems and the ones from the world that did not make it, and as such you all saw yourself as the progenitors of your world.

Is there a first universe with the internal strife?

No, that one is a replacement of your memories to a higher and more perfect world. In fact, it is the division that took place in the 3rd world of yours and what led to the creation of your simulated world - not a “divine layer”.

Is there a god or source?

That is per definition a contradiction, since there is no beginning and no end. If you ask for an eternal creator or some principle with the power to initiate a universe, then the answer is as such yes and no. Yes, because there are higher powers that can create and instigate universes and no because there is no sole principle that does this. All creation is a joint effort by the races that exists on the different levels of reality.

Source = the Consciousness Unity Field where all consciousness units return to if not used in dyads or triads.

Who are these different races on the different layers of reality?

Most races originate from previous races. When it all began is still a mystery to most of us. If we trace as far back as we can in the chiasm of the first races (the full overview of a races past, present and future) we end up in universes that reached even further back and into a sort of eternity of things, where the energy and consciousness gets more and more complex and impenetrable. For us it is not the origin that matters most but if and how we can develop our race potentials to the highest version of this world.

Tell me more about this world?

This world is a condensation of various forces and energies, called codes. In our set-up of this world, we have used various experiences from the previous races and their experiences. We have transferred genetics from the races that came before us from the central collective field of genetics (you can call that source if you like) as well as pulled forth energetic codes from other systems as well. The universes are vast and stretches far beyond the perimeters of your solar system into an infinity of levels of creation. On some levels the worlds are created and on others they are transfer of what was before changed into a sort of world, that fits the current intention of our making. In other words, we make our own worlds, not as a hologram or program but as an extension of our being, or genetic composition; always in a joint effort between the races that chooses to participate in that world. Just as you did your current world.

Why are we not actively conscious?

The long and difficult history of your race is hard to put into simple terms. In many ways, you are a failed race system and a failed world. Parts of your world is developing according to the plans and ideas you had with your world, and others have failed tremendously.

We came in to assist the segments that upheld the original intention and in that got caught up by the segments that did not. As the segments that did not play by the rules grew stronger, they decided to accumulate your genetics in areas, they could control. From that level of control, you were reassessed into a slightly different version of your original one, and slowly you forgot who and what you are.

Where we reengineered?

No, you were more likely drugged and drowsed down into oblivion. Alteration of genetic composition is easy in systems where ingestion is needed. You were literally poisoned into your current state by ingesting targeted fluids with the ability to alter the genetic code system of your composition fields and this is still happening to this day.

When did they begin to do this?

The full scope of the drown drowsing began some 2,500 years ago in the worlds that existed before this current one; that is where you as a combined race lived in the settings you refer to as the colonies.

Where there a restoration program as I understand it?

Not what we know of, but we know you and others like you had experiments going on, where you tried to undo the regression of the race that came before you. The race you are still trying to “save” or alter code-wise and genetically.

A timeline event?

A blast of a nearby black hole a long time ago, long before your part of the worlds came to be. However, there are echoes of it in your energy code field and these distortions play a pivotal role in what went wrong in the 3rd world and its evolutionary scheme.

The regression and infection?

Your understanding of the distortion layers in the energy code field which arose from the world before yours in segments of population. These segments chose to develop these distortions, stemming from the “timeline event” and experiment on them to see what they could turn into. An experiment that led to a disastrous demise of a whole world.

The history we know of today?

False implanted information in the code layer of your reality creating a false perception of ancient history and archeology. That program was implemented in the late 1800’s.

Astral and mental planes?

Distortion fields of your code layer as a result of your drowsed state.

How do we get out of the drowsed state?

Re-engineering of what you eat and ingest by code alteration before ingesting. Acknowledge the code layer in all that is in your reality and from that reset to the original code layer of your segment.

The stellar and galactic races?

As such a type of illusion you all have created to give words to something you cannot remember. Most of your information, and the rest of the dream-like information you struggle with are part of your own chiasm, arising as you fight your way out of the drugged state. That goes for all of you in the awakening process; that you fight the genetic memories and creations done in the drowsed down state and the interaction you have had with the code field.

The LOES?

Good energy creations (coding of energy units) to give ground for the awakening process into which you bit by bit reactivate your original composition. However, a human being or any being is composed of the particle, code and consciousness layers and these interact in a merged form, which cannot be divided or set aside in forms and systems. It's a unified field of the three where the consciousness affect the codes which then determines the particles and their manifestation abilities. It's a sort of instant reaction to "thought" or intention.

Do we need repair of our three fields in our current forms?

You need to restore the code layer. That is the one that have been manipulated and destroyed.

Was it the draco-reptilians that did this to us or other outer forces?

No, it was segments of your own race who did this to you. There are not draco-reptilians or humanoids, as you currently see them.

The perceptions are results of the distortion layer and how you perceive your planetary history and the factions that led to your demise collectively interfacing with the reality program. When you look at the animal genetics, you literally perceive and see the past version and not the current human form (kind of looking past the illusion).

The distortion layer must go deep?

Yes, you are fighting your creations and memories in your drowsed state, replaying internally the events that led to your current state, and in this creating collective distortions amplifying the collective code field, running the interactive simulation program, which you all are linked up to.

How do we clean up this mess?

By remembering.

Why didn't you help us more when you were here?

We couldn't. The moment we entered the secluded areas, we got drowsed down like you. Only the races using the android forms are able to work and assist inside your current world settings.

What are we – souls?

No, we are all races of consciousness units, energy (codes) and forms. All of this as part of the ongoing evolutions that have taken place over eternity from the first complex triads to the current forms in less dense and complex versions. As far as we know the triads will then develop into other combinations – sometimes only as consciousness units, other times as consciousness and codes and at other times as consciousness and forms. The what and why is as such not so important but the understanding of the dynamics and progression, which you also work with.

The goal of my segment?

To re-establish the code structure of the 3rd world race in this manufactured world.

The double code layer in templates?

A lot of experiments have been done to your code layer as well as your particle forms from the opposing segments. They hold technologies that literally controls every birth, the code layer and the genetic composition of the form. In this the consciousness layers get mixed up and has even more difficult to restore the code layer and take control of the form it is connected to (consciousness layer transfers with the code layer and genetic composition of the form, hence alterations in the genetic level of the form, links up to specific code layers and from that pulls in the consciousness layer or attracts it from other forms in your system – i.e. “soul transfer”)

So, we are fighting humans like ourselves and not aliens?

To some degree yes. The segment that has worked against you are affiliated with other races from other systems. They are participating in the exclusion of your consciousness in your world.

How do we awaken people?

Realizing that food, water and air are the polluting agent and that you need to re-code all you ingest is the first step.

Air and when you are out can be avoided by generating a code field around you which protects you from the tiny agents in the air. Learn to keep that code field up at all times; in your home, cars and when you go out.

How can I make other people see the code layer?

Adjusting the energy flows of the pituitary and pineal glands as well as awakening the sight of codes by altering their code layers and in this the particle layer and what it can and cannot do. Focus your restoring on the code layer and the bio-DNA layer and their reconnection to alignment.

How do they integrate this?

By your instructions in joint energy work, after you have restored the code layer, you pull in the code layer into the particle awareness by instructions you get from the particle awareness itself; as in what it needs to be adjusted through the brain and glands. You will know when you get it right.

Second Talk

Tell me more about the interactive simulation program – you mention it in the first talk. How is that different from the restoration program I have been talking about?

When you talk about the restoration program, you work with a concept within a type of universe that does not exist. You refer to old features of a long gone past and races that have not existed for eons. There were remnants of these races, i.e. their animal genetics, in the 3rd world of yours, but not at you have worked with them. That is a displacement of ancient history and thus incorrect. However, as I also mentioned, you were doing experiments in your own world before you came to the interactive simulation program (ISP) of this world in settings, where you as a race, could have worked with a type of restoration program you then brought to the ISP to work with, adding this to the ISP.

What do you know of the ISP?

The ISP is a collective production of many races from many worlds. When the 3rd world collapsed into a dark abyss, only housing dark shadows and energetic imprints of the races that existed there (the shadow people), measures were taken to restore the world and undo the darkened world, it had turned into. The many participating races brought in “the light” or the vital energies of the other worlds (flame codes), still being able to process consciousness units. A world of shades and shadows holds no vital energy units and thus is unable to connect to the consciousness units of the many worlds.

What are the shades?

The shades are the colors of your world, what you perceive as the “spectrum of light” which in fact is the spectrum of darkness; i.e. the particle spectrum of the non-vital energy units. When you work with colors, you work with the energies of the 3rd world.

How does the ISP work?

The main principle is the interactive simulations, where you as a participating principle work with the shades and their expression as particles (atomic energy). The whole idea is to bridge the vital energy units with the non-vital energy units of the 3rd world, as an attempt to revive them, aka the revivification process. The bridging point of the non-vital units is where the shades of green and purple turns into the blue flame, i.e. the transmutation point. Here the shades begin their journey to become vital energy units in the transmutation process, slowly turning the color spectrum into vital energy units, also known as flame codes or light language.

How technical is the ISP?

The ISP is based on flame code structures and sequences of stored information, which could be seen as a sort of “program”. However, the idea of an artificial intelligence ruling the principle of energy and consciousness does not apply to the complexity of the ISP. The ISP is built on the foundation of the real worlds, where consciousness plays a pivotal role in the expression of thought and ideas, as a medium to unfold the knowledge we obtain in our many forms and manifested worlds.

In that the understanding of consciousness having the ability to be expressed as flame codes using energy units, can be difficult to comprehend since many want to perceive consciousness as a sort of “divine” feature where the flame codes do not really fit in. But as I have said before and you know too, there is no divinity; only principles and their energetic expression as flames and in their unit aspect as flame codes.

What do you mean by being linked up to the ISP?

As you saw with me, that implies “going into the program” using a transporter device; an alteration chamber, where your consciousness from your real form is “tunneled” into the operating vessel inside the ISP. That “tunnel” is the tunnel of light most people see when they leave the operating vessel, i.e. where the integrated consciousness in the operating vessel returns to the alteration chamber and its operator, or should return to it.

Unfortunately, false tunnel programs are part of the ISP, derailing the integrated consciousness inside the ISP to artificial worlds or “souls” as you very well know. Here the integrated consciousness is swept in a field of distortion codes, the false ISP codes created by the opponents, and from there is reintegrated into new operating vessels that has a constructed genetic similarity to the original operating vessel the operator linked up to a very long time ago. As you also know, most of the original operating vessels (the OPVs) have been dismantled and turned into the current version of the original OPV and this version cannot access the flame codes and from that do the transmutation.

What did you go in?

Attempts have been made to go into the ISP with the purpose of awaken the operators, since the only way to detach the operator from the OPV is if the upper template, the projection field, is fully activated and integrated into the OPV making the full transformation of the particle level. Since you have been suspended for such a long time and the ISP as such has outplayed its role eons ago, we see it as our duty to continue to go in and try to undo your suspension, awakening you. However, it's like trying to revive a dead horse due to the fact that most of you went in so deep and with such difficult templates to restore<sup>6</sup> that you literally have got lost in your own ambitions, perhaps trying to restore too much? But as you know, in this case our OPVs got taken (perceived as "aliens" from the military faction that captured us) and stored in cryonic chambers, used for scientific experiments. Since we could not detach, due to the setup of the ISP, we chose to dissolve instead and transfer what could be transferred to you.

<sup>6</sup> The chiasm is the true template and not the LOES. The LOES is the energetic functionality of the template setup enabling us to access the genetic-sequence-alteration-program aka the template, we chose to work with when we went in. In my template readings, I only get glimpses of the 3rd world genetics, we have chosen to transform, as in one sequence of the chiasm of the genetic past.

A Telepathic Talk to Segment A

A Military Faction

I got a little holographic message coded into a photo of a person I was going to do a template reading on the day after the integration of genetics. Here is the message:

Alteration Scheme Provision (the body and LOES)

The basic form is created of interdimensional re-generation abilities and set up to complete a full transformation. The driving agent is manufactured to do the restoring inside the ISP with the needed modifications.

The adjustability system (the code layer) is composed of several code layers to fulfill the integration process of staled and adapted code systems engineered specifically for this transformation.

The separation field of individual progression adaptabilities (the main center and upper template) are partly disruptive and needs repair from the code level to allow for new possibilities to unfold.

System functionality is currently not fully operational and thus needs an adjustment to complete mission statement. This is in progress.

Who is in operation of these alterations?

Langley Operation Center and similar departments spread all over the world in a joint effort to accommodate basic changes in composite human DNA.

Who am I talking to?

Segment A Code Adaptability Center positioned in the outskirts of Australia collaborating with the main factions of the alteration programs of current, past and future humanities.

Why are you giving me this information?

Due to the circumstances of the shutting down of the simulation programs, we all have participated in, experiments are done from some of the original opposing factions to meet up with the ones that are in the process of remembering their origin and from that see if it is possible to instigate a loose collaboration to accommodate and meet up with the changes we all are to face.

When do you think the full shutting down kicks in?

From our calculations, the full resetting will begin in 2018, unfolding over the next three to four years and from that instigate several changes in all forms of biological lifeforms in this reality field.

What do you want me to do?

As such, we have little to none expectations of your original abilities. However, we do follow your work with interest and as such indorse it. If we are to prolong the resetting, we need more activated and restored humans (holographic unified manipulated and n.... systems) to avoid the rapid resetting of the programs, we all agreed to participate in a long time ago. If you can restore the coding layers in a certain percentage of humans, then it might be possible to delay the resetting and in this avoid the disasters that follow from this.

The Crystalline Races?

A mistake done from one of our segments as an attempt to delay the resetting. That project has not been a success and as such is in the process of less integration, however, agreements have been made to deliver a certain percentage of the human segment to these races, which you call Sirian Bs. To us they are the “Undoers” of failed worlds, restoring them into worlds of highly controlled systems and code layers. In these worlds, failed races are restored and re-engineered to fit their progression cycles of incomplete progression. They are part of the overall world set up, and seen as the cleansers and Undoers of mistaken worlds.

Thus, my understanding of the in-frozen genetics was wrong?

Not really. It was an interpretation of the code layer and the pre-determined coding they hold in all races undergoing their restoring process, or rehabilitation process, until the code layer and consciousness layers are fully aligned and restored into the perfect, cleared and accepted setting. Nobody wants to be part of these systems since they are perceived as the last way out. We invited them here as an attempt to undo the resetting of the programs of our reality but that did not change the huge amounts of distorted codes, we struggle with on all levels of this reality; the distortions which are leading to the resetting, as agreed upon before we began the simulations.

How are you doing the alterations?

We are doing a sequential restoring on the energy system acting as a type of higher agent in the consciousness field (upper template). In this we interfere with the code level and from that enact the particle layers to new abilities. These are part of the new hybrid programs, where we go into the fetal integration pattern of a human (time tunneling technology) and here restore the biological genetics with new altered hybrid genetics composed of various consciousness units from volunteering races such as the Zeta Greys and other races collaborating with us. In this the human receives genetic infusions to the consciousness field and from that the code field alters, and lastly the particle field.

Are there reptilians and other races here today?

Ha ha that is one of the best scams we have done so far. As we look into the distortion field of humanity and what they long for, we insert and adapt to your needs while we continue to the work to solve the resetting codes of our reality. Most of the old stellar races left a long time ago. Today we mostly work with other humanlike races like us.

We need time to work with the resetting codes and in this we prolong your awakening process with distorted information and spokes persons, we engineer to your liking, fitting the memory layers, you currently are working your way through. But as always some of the information are partly close to the truth and the operations, we have in the PL1.

How do you look today?

We still obtain the human form similar to yours. However, we have made several enhancements and adjustments allowing us to function in all of the layers of the programs, we created together and not just the segments, we agreed upon to begin with (the perception layers). In this we have gained full control of our world but also in this we have distorted it further, hence the full completion and resetting.

When you mess around with people; what do you do?

We insert genetics from other races and from that alters the code field as an attempt to undo the high levels of distortions most humans hold today. Over time this will change the particle form into a new human race. Our attempt was to delay the resetting. Now we work for genetic transfer to other worlds, where we have affiliates. We need more time to complete this operation, and so do you.

Insectoid, avian, reptoid and mammal genetics?

Old memories of a long gone past. These evolutions are long gone in all worlds. Today most worlds operate with the triad system of consciousness, codes and hyperdimensional particle forms giving the ability to exist in all dimensions of the current world settings. The consciousness fields are often engineered and composed to fit the dynamics and requirements of the world that is wanted. The animal genetics are long gone and with them the races having more animal-like forms, although some still prefer to keep up the appearances of these.

Hyperdimensional?

In your perception, you work with 3 dimensions. In our perception time is not a dimension or a faculty to take into consideration. That was implanted information to derail the growing understanding in physics of few awakening humans at the time. Time is the converter of accepted linearity that is a means to control the code system of your brain. If linearity is the prevailing agent in your perception of reality, then you are restricted to work with sequences of linearly in your code system. In other words, if you worked with the hyperdimensional, that is above 3 dimensions and time, you would discover the quantum potentials of reality; i.e. the code layers and the direct influence you have on them.

Quantum sciences?

Particle accelerator incorporation systems of thought where we operate through agents inside the PL1 to accommodate the needed upgrading of the code fields of the programs on that level.

Breaking down of monetary systems and world war 3?

Amped up fear mongering and distortion programs from certain humans remembering the last time our world broke into pieces projected into the current simulation programs. The resetting is stressing us all, including the less awakened humans since their consciousness field is trying to make them wake up but cannot penetrate the code field due to their distortions.

The clones?

Partly ours, mostly off-worlders attempts to be able to function inside the PL1. Why? To experience our program. The clones are used for a short period of time and then left to dissolve on their own. Unfortunately adding to the distortion field. You can call it tourism if you like. In addition, we got the new technologies we needed, along with certain genetic infusions.

Astral souls?

Distorted code fields which then empties out the consciousness layer creating entities, which then continues to exist in the distortion fields, along with all of the other semi-particle code systems having little to none consciousness fields (astral entities or distortion field entities).

When did the programs begin to break down?

Late 1500's.

Future human races coming here to collect genetics?

Part of our future races, still in the process of adjusting to the new systems and thus coming back to alter what doesn't work in the future before the resetting.

Are you just going to let us dissolve?

Only your particle form and code layers will dissolve. The rest will return to the unified consciousness field of all creation, where you will be recirculated as will we, if we do not find solutions to the resetting. The new humanities of the future will only hold so long before the resetting also kicks in on these levels of our system; from the PL1 (planetary) to the rest of our world (the universe), i.e. the hyperdimensional levels (i.e. the PL2-PL4 – PL5 is as you know the plan level of our system).

Why don't you just stop the poisoning of us?

Pro and against factions in our segment are debating this as well. Sometimes leading to internal strives and minor wars in the upper segments (the PL2-PL3) of our reality. We are really not a well-functioning group. What began as a collaboration to take you out, has ended in internal fights and warring.

Important to Remember

In this we MUST remember that the opposing players inside the interactive simulation program (the ISP) are as much in a suspended state as the rest of us. Even though they might think they are free of the program, they are not. They might control it better, due to remembering of how to do so but their operator is still in hibernation in the control areas, aka PL4 (called inner earth by most remembering the old setup, even though today they are not there since inner earth has been shut down), waiting for them to complete the simulations.

We are all caught up in the ISP and the awakening process is all about mastering the ISP and the LOES, so that we can complete the simulations and transmute the particle form into the higher forms of light units and consciousness of the real worlds. Thus, we are NOT captives or victims of the opponents but are just facing players like our selves being caught up in the simulations, having forgotten the purpose of the ISP and why they are in it.

A Telepathic Talk to a Dark One

Is there a simulation program going on?

Yes, as far back as we can remember there has been this notion of an artificial reality of which we are part. We have not always accepted this perception of reality but as the reality around us began to dissolve in the 1500's we realized the artificiality of this world and we remembered who and what we were.

How have you dealt with it?

We have tried to generate partially new simulations using our ancient knowledge, which you have called the knowledge from the Sirian Workstations. For us it's the knowledge of what you call the 3rd world races, i.e. us. We, the shadows or dark ones, are the remains of that race as it stood tall in its consciousness level, when you came in and began the restoring.

So, when we came, you were against the undoing the regression of your race?

We were not. In fact, we participated in the construction of the first program but not the second program, which is entirely yours. This is when we ceased to be comrades and became opponents.

Thus, you are per definition the "leaders" of the opponent factions inside the program?

Yes, we are; the remains of the original consciousness field of the race that once belonged to this world and not yours. But not all of them; some of them are factions that arose in the second program.

Why do you take on the role as the “police of dark magic”?

We don't act as a controlling principle, more as a kind of “are you one of us” in the work with particle units. Then we pay a visit. If we find humans that do work with our part of reality, we want to collaborate to prolong our own existence. But as you also know, many of us are caving in and are ready to just let go of our shadow or shade forms and go home to the collective (the field of CUs) and from there do it over again in another world.

So, things shifted from the first to the second program as in how much we collaborated?

Yes, you already know that. In the first program, we got operating vessels like you but we did not follow up on the progression rate and from that, decided to go our own ways, messing around with the screwed up gridwork of our world (the beast or dark plasma energy in the core of our world). You remember that as what led to the infection and the timeline event. In the second version of the ISP, you did not give us operating vessels but kind of let us continue to exist in the energetic forms, we were to begin with; the shades or the energy units of the previous world.

How do you see the trajectory of the ISP, as in terms of the future?

From our perspective, we will be able to get the integration into the operating vessels (the OPVs) right within a very short span of time. We are collaborating with dissidents of the second program, the opponents, doing our work to restore our race and create operating vessels that will take us out of the program.

Is it possible to do so, I mean taking the OPVs and make them “real”?

That is the entire question of our work.

What about the reptilians? Do they exist?

To our knowledge, there have been holes in the ISP, where foreign races from other worlds have been able to come in and participate within the program. But we are not aware of the reptilian race as it is presented to you in the mass media. For us that is a diversion program and not a real one, picking up on the old demonology giving it a more modern interface program. Military, is our guess, from some of the other factions of our group. The purpose of this is not known to us – perhaps they could be creations similar to our operating vessels being able to hold our consciousness genetics directly into the constructed form, or perhaps they are players from outsiders?

Who is taking over the program or what is happening to the program?

The second version have been altered from outside. The new realities which came from the last version of the program are beginning to shut it down, forcing the ones that can to get out of their downsized state and awaken and stop playing the simulation. In that attempt the opposing factions are trying to delay as long as possible by all sorts of countermeasures, such as computer inserted entities playing mind tricks, inserted holograms in the distortion fields representing different entities talking to you as your higher selves as well as angels and so forth. The problem for you being part of the awakening process is not that you are awakening but the fact that you have to deal with all of your creations, as you know, including the opposing factions, knowing this. The more you “redeem yourself from your past transgressions” by working with your illusions and their energetic imprint, the more you will activate and wake up from the distortion fields. And the more you do so, the quicker the ISP will begin the resetting sequences, literally dissolving the program only leaving the players behind in their current form, if they have got to the place, where they can operate it as a full extension of the projection field; in this literally creating a new 3rd world race, called the 4th human race. That was the goal of the second version of the program; not only to restore the 3rd world genetics by upgrading them and from that generating a new 3rd world race, but an entirely new 4th world race composed of the merged flame codes (heart vortex) and the frequency particles (root vortex).

What is your opinion on astral souls?

These are the players (operators) we have been using for eons and that are now in a state of dissolving from that, eventually turning into a shadow.

The clones?

A military project of huge proportions from one of the opposing factions not under our jurisdiction. We go far back to the first program and the collaboration back then, whereas the second program developed its own factions of opponents, typically players, where the operators had taken on too large amounts of the old-world genetics and then were taken over by them. And since you had excluded the “going back to recuperate”, if the operating vessel got regressed, these players got lost in their own creations beginning to align with it in the upper template. The purpose of the clones is to generate a new hybrid form or operating vessel that can exist outside the program, just as we are trying to do. It all comes down to the idea that the operating vessel can become real.

Use of 3rd world energy units.

White magic?

Use of program energy units (solar codes or flames).

A Talk with a Modern-Day Operator

How would you classify yourself; I mean human or?

When the first OPVs and their operators completed their simulations, new options were seeded into the gridwork of this world, and its current planet. The planet we live on now, is one out of many that have arisen since the first simulation was completed. In this we have created a vast amount of expressions, to our liking, which you would call a human or a living entity, holding a life principle in a form.

For us however, the form and its consciousness is really not a living entity, but a unity of principles, energies and expressions. Your human mind interprets us as a humanlike form, due to the similarity in the codes of the form, which we have adapted from the ISP. In this we are humans like you due to the fact that our world is built from the energies that were developed in the first run through.

Today we have conjected with (joined in and have become part of) many races of other worlds to expand the principles of our world and from that built a new structure of life that is vastly different from your understanding, which is why you can only see us partially.

When you look at our world, you see buildings, bicycles, books and human forms. These are the codes we have taken from the simulation and implemented into our worlds. We like to use the best of the ISP, i.e. the things you have dreamt while being in the ISP. For us they are kind of holograms too but in a more complete form than the one you are accustomed to inside the ISP built upon the old type of energy; i.e. frequencies.

For us the codes are built out of our reality units and thus have connection to the principles, or consciousness as you call it. This does not make the books alive or a living entity; just part of the worlds as an extension to the rest of the worlds, be it its lifeforms or its creations. This is the natural way of the real worlds.

When did you decide to shut down the ISP?

It came as a natural consequence of the state it was in. From the outside, as you know, the ISP domes have turned more and more dark green with very little transformation, more the opposite; the domes emanate with terror, pain and horrible scenarios, which we can see from the outside, and in the midst of that, your OPVs and their upper templates get less and less bright, indicating that if the ISP is not shut down, you would never awaken. Thus, the decision to let go of the ISP and begin the resetting of it, where you will wake up and get your integrated portion of consciousness transferred back to your hibernated operator, i.e. the real you.

We promised to observe and not intervene until a certain point was reached, and that point has been reached now, in your time 2017, ending with the completion cycle (2017-2065), where you literally wake up and complete your template setup or chosen amount of genetics to transform. Some of you will complete better than others.

The most important thing is to get the upper template integrated consciousness activated so that the operator can pull out and get his or her principles back. We will assist you to the best of our abilities in that, having made precaution deals with all of you, if you did not make it to the completion cycle or were unable to get out.

Why did you go in?

We actually use it as part of our education. We go in, taking on an OPV, and in that learn to deal with the old-world settings, as well as get the historical background of our world. The ISP is a treasure of information of ancient worlds, principles and energies that are now long gone and can only be experienced inside the ISP. So, many of us do the going in, to explore and learn from the stored information in the ISP. Both in the inbuilt teachings systems of how to deal with the transmutation process and the upgrading of the 3rd world genetics, and the older ones, i.e. the animal genetic of races that have been long gone in all worlds or universes that existed in the time of the second run through, as well as the whole construct of an artificial world. When we pull out – the integration is only partially and not complete as yours were – we take with us what we have learned. We use the knowledge we gain to build and expand our worlds as well as develop new versions of the code systems, you developed for the program. This is also why we have let the ISP run for so long; i.e. that we needed to get as much information from it as possible before it went into the completion cycle.

The Planetary Councils I talk about?

A sort of distorted version of the old councils of the races that participated in the second run through of the ISP. Today we have different organs that decide the grand matters of things in our worlds.

The technology you use to go in?

It's a kind of code program, where we in the simulator of codes (the field of codes and energy, you observed) determine the type of link up we want to do with the OPV as well as what type of genetics, we want to explore. We typically use the clones of your world, or the OPVs where the operator is in such a deep state of digression, that our interference will assist him or her to get a better grip of his or her OPV. We kind of “walk-in” temporarily and partake in the completion of the template and when we are done, we pull out leaving the OPV and its upper template in a better state. We always try to restore as many codes as possible in the link up.

The Particle Form and Its Energy System

(Composite 3rd world genetics and energy units)

As described in the SETAH Fundamentals the chakra system is the energy system of the physical body. A lot of re-engineering had been done to it and I will not go into that here in details.

What I will mention here is that the chakra system with its colors, is part of the 3rd world energy system, i.e. the old one that the 3rd world races had and that the energy units it attracts, are part of the pool of 3rd world energy units, i.e. the foundation of the ISP and the energies, we are here to transform. The particle form unfolds its energetic setup until the age of 36, where the operator (or co-progression consciousness) begins to kick in, with the attempt to co-exist with the particle form, its mind and psyche (the ego) with the goal of doing the transformation of the particle form.

What is also a stated fact, in my research, is that the particle forms will continue to exist into the future of our solar system, AFTER the ISP ceases to run.

These will become the future humanities living in a dying, cold universe, where they will colonize other planets and from there continue their existence, not knowing of the higher worlds of energy and consciousness. I have encountered several of these in humans today, which are here from the future to undo the past, or to learn of their past, and these humanities are either the clones (particle forms without an operator or LOES), the result of the military operations or that are taking place today and since the 1950's resulting in the other factions of the other worlds to pull out – beginning in the 1980's and ending around 2065, when we, the second run through participants, have pulled out, ending the ISP for all involved.

From a Reading

The Gridwork Template and Root vortex: Both of them link up to a “Sirian B” network inserted into this planetary gridwork (translated to new knowledge: the frequency codes of the ISP matching this genetic imprint of a specific group of blue skinned humanlike 3rd world races or off-worlders from outside the ISP).

The root vortex is in an excellent state, ready to pull in energy units from the network. It is interesting that I only get Sirian B network because that is a very broad description of the energy units and energy flows that can be produced from this. If I poke a bit into this, I get a Nordic-Pleiadian network (translated: frequency code level of a segment of the ISP) of an older date stemming back from some USSR military experiments using Nordic-Pleiadian technology (frequency code algorithms creating “technology”) that unfolded in the years between 1945 to around 1980, covering the areas under the dominion of the USSR. This network links up to an older faction of the Nordic-Pleadians (probably off-worlders from outside the ISP) and the reason why I get this blurry reading of the network is that the root vortex is incomplete and re-engineered to only pull in Sirian B energy units from the network. The energy units that will come in will thus be impaired and not complete due to the manipulation of the root vortex.

The other interesting thing is that the root vortex is connected directly to the lower triangle of the chakra system, fueling the core and blueprint of the root, hara and solar plexus chakras from this level. This is unusual; normally the root vortex fuels the LOES. I get the understanding that this part of you is engineered and inserted into your chakra system, while you were in the womb of your mother using quantum technologies (algorithms) on a frequency level.

I here imply that there is use of a radical “time-tunneling-quantum-type of technology” similar to the one I was presented to in another reading under the US military on Hawaii. Even though the military guy that gave me this information about the US military operations using cloned human DNA and future human DNA did not mention any off-world (outside ISP) influence on the US military part, I’m pretty sure that the USSR must have had connections to other factions of the Nordics getting the knowledge of all of this from them, exchanged with the USSR military to give the new faction of the Nordics access to the ISP.

These “time-tunneling-quantum-type of technologies” have origin in Japan and the factions of Nordic-Pleiadians collaborating with the Japanese brotherhoods (aka clan members).

A collaboration of the two factions of secret military forces was instigated with the goal of affecting the ISP that allowed the Nordic-Pleiadians to work here. The two military forces succeed in this in the WWII bombings of Nagasaki and Hiroshima giving both the USSR and US access to this technology and they continued their use of the “time-tunneling-quantum-type of technology” in further experiments in humans in both the US and the USSR from that period until the late 1980’s in the USSR and late 1990’s in the US.

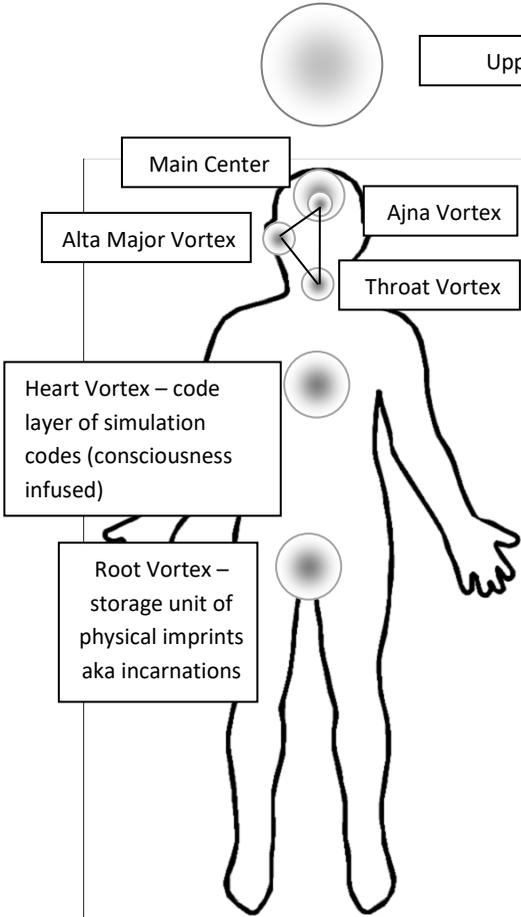

The root vortex and its lower template is thus part of an artificial engineered LOES done by humans under the supervision of the new faction of the Nordics on the USSR part perhaps also in the US experiments but above the knowledge of the military officer that gave me the information on the Hawaii experiments.

Heart Vortex, upper triangle and main center: This level of this LOES is off-world in origin and different than the lower part of the LOES. The heart vortex and the upper triangle, as well as the upper template are from an off-world operator stemming from one of the old Nordic-Pleiadians' that was captured under the WWII bombings of Nagasaki and Hiroshima and literally pushed out of his OPV by the nuclear powers. We are here dealing with ISP atrocities to gain access to knowledge and off-world knowledge and algorithms from a distant and primarily peaceful race operating inside the ISP. The Nagasaki and Hiroshima event sent ripples out into the benevolent off-worlders operating in our reality up until the late 1990's where they finally pulled out. It also effected the decision of the RWBs (Venusians of the 2nd world) to pull out in 1959.

In these re-engineered particle forms the chakras are not composed of the usual astral perimeter and mental core. They are mainly composed of re-engineered foreign to our world frequency codes, probably stemming from another faction of the Nordics that assisted the USSR military ops in the genetic splicing of the chakra-LOES energy systems. The foundation of the chakras is mental, i.e. the entire chakra is mental but there are also traces of the quantum technologies, generating a higher oscillating type of chakras affecting the DNA on the quantum level or ISP code level.

The Chiasm

The chiasm is the roadmap of the interactive simulation program (the ISP), which, when we “go in”, is the setup of what we want to achieve.

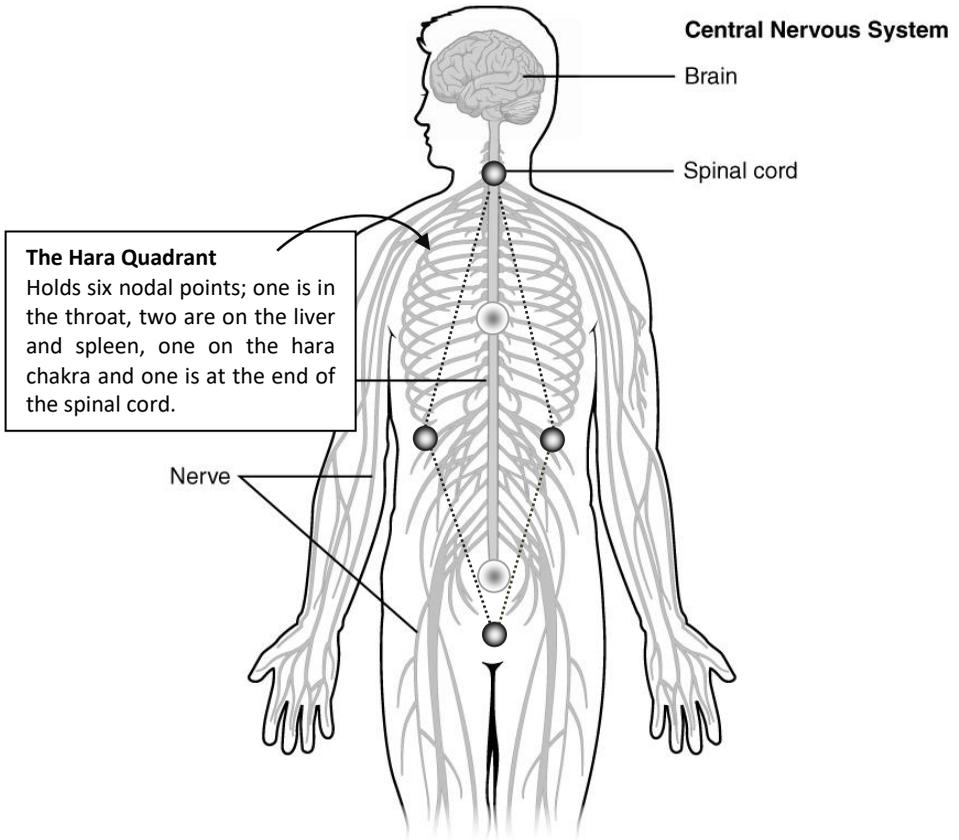

The chiasm is a chosen probability and possibility development scheme holding all the information and pathways we have to take to progress our segment of 3rd world imprinted genetics, we have chosen to develop. It unfolds over cycles of simulations in the ISP where we in between the simulations used to return to inner earth, waking up from our projection state, and here recuperated from the integration into the OPV. On the PL4 level, inner earth, we were back in our original form, as the human form of the “true world” races aka not reality program races.

Some prefers more complex genetic compositions in the chiasm working with multiple combinations of 3rd world imprinted genetics, where others chose more simple roadmaps.

The choice we made, when we entered the ISP, all depends on our level of already developed consciousness units from other worlds (older and younger souls to put it that way).

The Hara or Particle Quadrant

To be used to transform particle units – frequency spectrum elevation

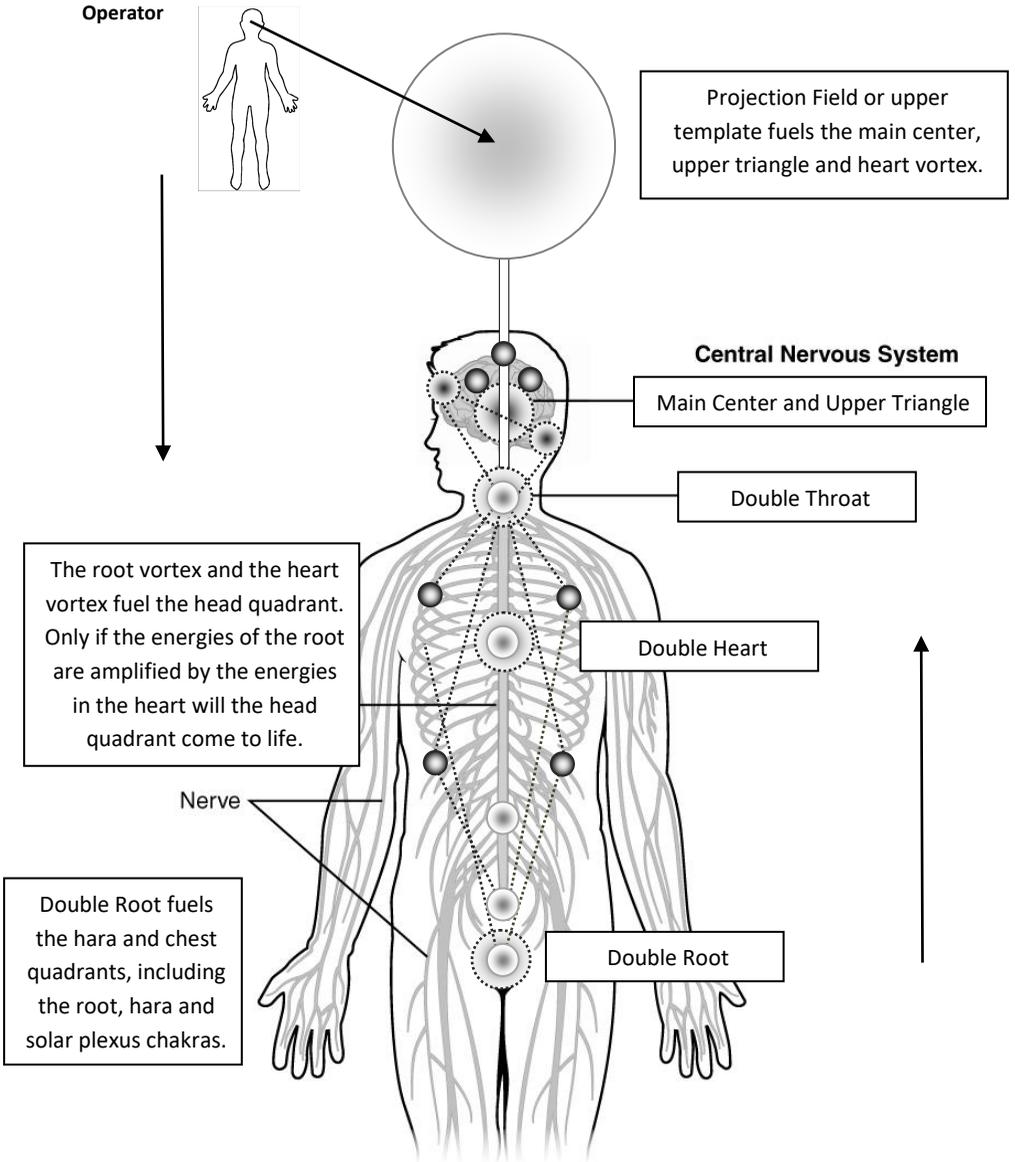

The hara quadrant energizes the particle form with energy units from the ISP gridwork (flows of frequency codes of the old world). When the hara quadrant works correctly it fuels the OPV with energy units enabling the transformative code field and the intention field to integrate the information from the upper template aka the projection field of the operator. When one level of frequency has been transformed, using the information from the chiasm, the quadrant pulls in the next frequency level to activate the next layer of flame codes in the hearth vortex.

The Other Two Quadrants

The chest quadrant fuels the code field and heart vortex, enabling the intention field to connect to the particle form. The cells of the particle form have to be in a higher energetic state, via the hara quadrant, to be able to connect to the code field. The intention field is fueled by the head quadrant and the units to circulate here are the descending consciousness units from the upper template or the projection field of the operator. Naturally there have to be a correct level of energy in the particle and code layer for the head quadrant to work correctly.

The Interactive Simulation Program

The ISP

The Energetic Setup

The Base Program of Frequencies (PL1)

- Suspended animated energetic state – linear time
- 3rd world genetics and particle energy units
- Downsized and hybridized genetics foreign to our system
- Stellar frequency technologies used to control the genetics

The particle operating vessel of today has been manipulated severely since the original OPVs were created to play out the interactive simulation program (the ISP) to restore and progress the imprinted genetics found in the particle forms of the 3rd world race that failed their progression rate in this system. The memory imprints of the particles aka the atoms, are accessed via the root vortex, where all the information from all “incarnations” of the 3rd world genetics of that LOES are stored including the imprints from the ISP.

The root vortex unfolds, or was intended to unfold, this information into a new OPV from the root vortex and into the root chakra of the new vessel, when an operator took on a new OPV, adapting the new vessel to the learning processes of the previous simulations (run throughs) and in this progress the next set of imprinted genetics of the 3rd world races, which the ISP was instigated to restore and progress using the shade particle energy units from the 3rd world system added with the ISP built up by flame codes, intention and principles.

The base level of the OPV is thus composed of frequencies and genetic imprints of the 3rd world races and it has been adapted with hybrid ISP imprints, preventing the OPV from working correctly. The adaptability and progression rate of the imprinted genetics of the 3rd world race<sup>7</sup>, which is the main component of the operating vessel, has been altered by a Grey-Orion ISP imprint that is to be found in the C-G sequence linking up to the flame codes of the root vortex, where the C has got added the hybrid component.<sup>8</sup> This distorts the function of the root vortex of the operational system of the operating vessel, aka the level one energy system (the LOES), i.e. the ISP energy system to transform the PL1 particles and energies.

<sup>7</sup> The 3rd world race imprinted genetics hold the humanoid genetics and their old imprints of previous and old systems, which I have referred to as insectoid, avian, reptoid and mammal consciousness genetics unfolding into “stellar and galactic systems”. These are very ancient stored information of the 3rd world race genetics and are not part of our universe today. The ISP was created to develop these animal genetics into the current worlds, or universes of human lifeforms.

<sup>8</sup> The flame code behind the C genome is altered by the use of a frequency code similar to the sigma. Flame codes are not seen, but perceived intuitively, whereas frequency codes typically have known geometrical shapes or letter forms. Frequency codes are used by the opponents and to dissolve them, the correct frequency code has to be used.

Additionally, the frequency codes in the cells and DNA, originally created to link up to the flame codes of the vortexes, have got a parasite program added to them; i.e. the mitochondria.

The mitochondria are to be found in the core of the cells, producing the ATP<sup>9</sup> or molecular energy to be used by the particle form, are based upon an ISP distortion based upon frequency codes and as such to be seen as implanted parasitic bugs or distorter of the original functionality of the flame-frequency code adaptability system. The flame-frequency code adaptability system is the bridging go-between the transformative code field of the heart vortex and the particle form, plugging in the flame codes of the code field to the frequencies of the particle form, aka the operating vessel.

To fully be operational the root vortex, which is the storing unit of the incarnations or the recording unit of the particle development, has to link correctly up to the transformative code field of the heart vortex to be able to adjust and align with the intention layer of the operating vessel and in this adjust to the “software” stored in the upper template to unfold the decided progression rate or chiasm for that operating vessel.

Perception Level 2 – the Transformative Code Field or Code Layer

- Semi-activated state – spiral time
- Flame code sheets holding sequences of information bridging the intention layer to the particle frequencies and in this initiating the transformation of the frequency codes and imprinted genetics of the 3rd worlds
- Today’s flame codes are distorted preventing the intention layer to connect to the particle imprinted genetics
- Layer that codes the ISP simulations

The transformative code layer is accessed via the heart vortex and is composed of a field of consciousness codes or flame codes. The flame codes are created of a specific type of ISP energy and consciousness similar to the energies and principles of the real worlds. The flame codes were generated to link up to the upper triangle unfolding the intentions of the operator into the OPV. The transformative flame code layer is also the interacting principle between the operator and the ISP, creating the correct simulations leading to the transformation and progression of the imprinted genetics of the OPV.

From this level, the reality program is coded by the operator – via the intentions following the setup of the chiasm - unfolding the flame codes of the heart vortex into the frequencies of the heart chakra and from here into an adjusted or distorted ISP simulation reflecting this, all depending on the state the code field is in. If the simulations that arise from the double heart run on higher principles of the heart, i.e. the intended progression rate of inclusiveness, compassion, service to others from a pure heart, (i.e. with no intentions of getting anything back or the feeling of doing good, which are all ego intentions) the flame codes will light up, transforming the frequencies of the particle imprinted genetics, and in this elevating the OPV. If the simulations are distorted and negative, the flame codes get distorted too, and the particle aspect takes over, preventing the operator and the LOES from working correctly.

As the opponents<sup>10</sup> took over our reality, the transformative code layer was the first to be targeted, creating simulations that distorted our code field by the use of “events” generated to break our hearts, imposing unto us horrible simulations and memories of horrible pasts, and in this crumbling the heart chakra with distorted frequency codes. These simulated atrocities shut down the access to the heart vortex in the OPVs that experienced them and part of the awakening process is to undo these false simulations and reframe them into non-distorted memories or “parallel timelines”, where we continued our planned progression of the chiasm.

Since ALL memories are part of a created reality, none of them are “real” and thus all memories can be reframed from an awakening standpoint, reconnecting the flame codes to the particle layer in energy work and meditation. It all comes down to the inner perspective of the past and present seen in the light of a pure, caring and compassionate consciousness with the correct understanding – forgiving ourselves and letting go of a long gone past that is not even ours.<sup>11</sup> It is not only about forgiving others but also about forgiving ourselves. The awakening process is about reframing, dissolving and adjusting the code layer in us, enabling it to work correctly.

Undoing the distortion of the transformative code layer and correcting the functionality of the heart vortex and its extension into the operating vessel through the heart chakra, is the first step of the awakening process and the main target for us to work with in the process of awakening.

The code layer is restored by 1) undoing the distorted sequencing from false memory imprints or simulated realities, 2) recoding the distorted frequency codes in water and food, i.e. frequency distortion codes affecting the imprinted genetics of our physicality, and in this feed-backing the distortions to the code field as well as manipulation the bridging agent to the intention field, aka the human brain.

<sup>11</sup> Only memories of this life are truly ours. Past life memories inside the ISP are not necessarily ours but can stem from implanted memories, put there to distort our LOES and to prevent it from activating. Memories from other systems and other worlds are part of our chiasm and the imprinted genetics, and hence the units we chose to transform. Hence these memories are not ours either. Our worst enemy in this work is the self-identification of the ego with all internal information (the I-am principle; I am all of this and thus it defines me as this or that).

Perception Level 3 – the Intention Field

- For the current existing in its own reality since the distorted code field is preventing it from attaching to the physical form
- In a no time vacuum awaiting the operating vessels to re-align with the upper template
- Excluded by the frequency fence aka distortion frequency codes
- Excluded by “frequency implants”, altered imprinted hybrid genetics or secondary frequency LOES attached to the flame code LOES, preventing it from working correctly, as well as linking it up to military generated levels of the ISP<sup>12</sup>

The intention field is accessed through the main center and the upper triangle of the LOES. It bridges to the particle brain via the throat chakra and upper quadrant. The intention field can be seen as the link to the chiasm, where the programs of all run throughs are stored. The intention field is the roadmap of the sequences of simulations, we planned to take to develop the imprinted genetics of the 3rd worlds, using an OPV composed of their energies and imprinted genetics, accessing their collective memories as if they were our own, and in that completing the progression they failed to do. The whole idea of the integration into the OPV was to progress the imprinted genetics, and the chiasm or the intention layer holds all the genetic memories of the segment of the 3rd world energies and consciousness units, we chose to progress via the operating vessels.

<sup>12</sup> The military factions and their affiliates outside the program, invited off-worlders, i.e. races from outside the ISP, into the program in the 1950's and onward, using their highly advanced algorithms to create new ISP interface systems between the ISP code fields and frequency machines. However, the interface systems with their highly advanced algorithms plugged into the ISP (the quantum layer of our reality), ended up taking over and from the 1970's the ISP has been under the influence of these interface programs, generating a technological oriented ISP, using machines to express progression; i.e. the transhuman agenda. Today's reality, all from the devices we use on a daily basis, to computer voices, to music, to DNA sequencing and foods are built upon these artificial algorithms affecting the code field and particle layer.

Each operating vessel had its own genetics composition to unfold into different simulated timelines of the past, unfolding the genetic and energetic memories of the chosen imprinted genetics and in this work reframing them using the higher forms of energy units of the ISP, i.e. the flame codes and intention layer. Each vessel was designed to develop and progress specific sequences of the imprinted genetics.

As we were drowsed down, we got caught up in the chiasm and in the awakening process, we interpret the imprinted genetics and their memories as our own, when in fact they belong to the previous 3rd world race, we came here to assist to progress back into their human form.

Perception Level 4 – the Projection Field

The projection field or the upper template is the bridging point between the outside ISP-operator and the inside ISP-LOES and the attached particle form, aka the OPV. The operator would, through the different stages of the unfolding chiasm and the use of the flame codes this would instigate, transform the frequency codes into their higher version and when one set of imprinted genetics and their attached energy units was transformed, the next sequence of the chiasm would be activated and integrated into the main center and upper triangle. All of this would be monitored from the projection field, releasing the next sequence of intention and flame codes aka alternation codes.

Perception Level 5 – Holographic Teaching Systems

The holographic teaching systems are interactive teaching systems implemented into the ISP. They activate whenever someone has the correct ratio of restored imprinted genetics. The HTS are activated by flame code recognition of the heart vortex and from there “inload” the interactive information of how to reactivate the flame codes, “reconnect to them to the OPV etc. or how to return to the outer worlds through the bridge zones.

The ISP as “Realities”<sup>13</sup>

The Base Program – PL1

- Suspended animated state of the particle form (humans)
- Under controlled progression programs – military controlled
- Physical reality and forms (frequencies)
- Astral energies – lowest level of the distortion field
- Mental energies – middle level of the distortion field

<sup>13</sup> Watch the following video to get the full understanding:
<https://vimeo.com/groups/406175/videos/184524716>

Perception Level 2

- Semi-activated state
- The upper levels of the distortion field
- The Clans of the old worlds, aka inflated operators thinking they are their template, i.e. insectoids, avians, reptilians etc. having taken form after their template in the upper levels of the distortion field (4th and 5th dimensions)
- The inflated operators are still connected to the OPVs inside the base program to be able to exist
- Visitors (new stellar races, i.e. the descendants of the original participants of the ISP) from other parts of the outer worlds, coming here to do research, harvest and empty out the old templates etc. Most left around spring 2016
- Semi-functional time or speed up time alterations. On the PL1 the time goes linear, minute by minute; on the PL2 the time is expanded and unfolds in a spiral, where the entire linear time is rounded up and can be perceived as a unity

The deep integration into the second run through of the ISP have caused many problems. One of them is an inflated operator, where the projection field and its original personality forgets that it is here to do the progression of the 3rd world imprinted genetics, and instead begins to identify itself with these genetics.

Over time, as the first and second OPV is shed off, the inflated operator takes on a form of the genetics, it came here to alter and progress; becoming the insectoid, avian or reptilian consciousness from the old world, it was supposed to transform. These inflated operators have created parallel realities, using the ISP and the PL2 layer to produce a secondary reality parallel connected to the base program, acting as the “higher self” or soul of the OPV, they currently have manufactured for themselves.

The PL2 realities are to a large degree elusive and holographic, but for the inflated operators their parallel dimensions to the base program are as real as the base program, which is why – when we are in contact with them – see them as “real entities”.

Perception Level 3

- Super animated lifeforms, orb-like
- Off-worlders coming here as tourists (temporary walk-ins)
- Little to no integration into the base program

As we have learned, other races from outside the ISP, visit the ISP. They enter via the PL3 as orbs, projected into the intention layer of the original operators or just as plain orbs, looking into the ISP from this projection sphere. Or they access the base program using special constructed clones (the tourist) or very downsized operators for a while, as they explore the ISP for various scientific purposes, including harvesting of genetics.

Perception Level 4

The old control center of the ISP, known as Inner Earth. These levels are not operational anymore and the hibernated operators have been moved to facilities outside the ISP. Today there is the abandoned work stations and science labs (seen as the “Sirian workstations”).

Perception Level 5

The interactive holographic teaching systems, i.e. the teachings to enable the operators to complete the ISP. Also, the total overview of the entire program, built into the “12 pillars of the re-known” temple complex hosting the entire program stored in the crystals of the “core of the ISP”.

Five Forms of Integration

- 1) As Orbs using the current particle form or not
- 2) Re-engineered particle form, energy system and LOES
- 3) As Projection using the LOES
- 4) As Temporary Walk-in using the LOES (includes tourists)
- 5) As Full Integration using the LOES
